California to Maine, but the reporter in Boston or San Francisco as a rule neglects to inform himself or us of scholastic happenings. The editors of Current Events will be grateful, therefore, if the Classical Department or Classical Club of each college and high school, whenever things classical take place, will send at least a brief note to the Journal. It is such items that oftentimes do most to stimulate the secondary-school teachers and give new light and life to their teaching.

Respectfully submitted,

LOUIS E. LORD, Treasurer

We have examined the books of the Treasurer of the Classical Association of the Middle West and South for the year September 1, 1918, to August 31, 1919, and have found them correct.

Auditing Committee

In spite of the fact that the membership of the Association is about three hundred less than last year, and in spite of the fact that over three hundred and fifty dollars have been spent in the publication of the Index to the Journal, the balance of cash on hand is only about fifty dollars less than it was a year ago. This result has been obtained by economy in the publication of the Journal, by discontinuing the activities of the Publicity Committee, and by a less ambitious program at the last annual meeting. The receipts from commissions from the University of Chicago Press have also somewhat increased. It seems probable that the present year will see a still further reduction in our membership—unless the individual members of the Association can be made to feel their responsibility for securing new members. In view of the small cash balance now available, economy in the management of the Association will again be necessary this year.
